

FAIR-FIELDER

Catch what was said in the sermon?

In most instances, I was just hearing their full story. One is 36 and has spent 19 years in prison, the majority of his life.

He has tried but cannot pass the G.E.D. Exam which is now harder, and he reads at a 7th grade level..

In his prime, he was making deals in the $30,000-50,000 range each.

Lent is a long journey that ends at the cross (2) ... which is transformed by resurrection.

“The model of “few saved (2), most destroyed” is disavowed by none other than God.

The passage from Mark is typical Mark.

If the translator said pigeons rather than dove, maybe we wouldn't have this problem.

Jesus is in effect commissioned in his ministry.

In the tight wording of Mark, the powers of the world are already in the wilderness chaos.

Our connection to the promise of life needs to be enlivened, renewed, and energized.
