Their experience of life can be radically different from our own.

On the other hand, these differences can instigate fear.

Churches tend to be hives of people - like - me .

Clearly they need direction, but not a big, crazy list (2).

How about a top ten (2) list?

The only righteous thing you did was follow instructions.

Second, don't be really foolish and think that you can fashion your own god in some way.

The prime emphasis of the Ten Commandments is that God is not a plaything.

Calvin sums up these commandments in one word "charity."

They're clueless about his rage and objection; they were just doing business as usual.

And yes, we could be culprits as well.

We're called to submit and every agenda to God's sovereign authority (2).
