The neighbors' backyards have no trees.

However, the squirrel becomes instinctively anxious and fearful.

Inside the sanctuary, they will encounter a safe familiar routine called a ritual.

Yes, friends, the doxology can be sung in different tunes.

One could also say that when the journey stopped, so did the promise of God.

All of it will only take place when they sojourn outside their comfort zone (2).

Nicodemus is in the dark (2) about Jesus.

The dialogue is quite uneven, another stylistic trait (2) of John's gospel.

But Nicodemus is immersed in his darkness.

Jesus draws on the story from Numbers about the staff with the snake that Moses raised up.

But as Nicodemus reveals, we can be trapped in that familiar space.
