I never heard anyone call him Earl.

God has two names in the Judeo-Christian tradition:
Yahweh and Jehovah.

Four hundred (2) men is not an escort; it's a battalion.

This clearly indicates that the mystery man is Dracula.

Security would have been nice right about now.

Jacob knows with whom he has been wrestling all night; the name is irrelevant.

Jesus draws a huge crowd in a remote location, far outside the pizza delivery (2) zone.

Jesus finds the limited food supply irrelevant.

In this object lesson, the disciples are taught to bring their faithful strengths (2) together before God.

Their level of faith caused them to look not to God, but to their larder.

He wants us in the churches to know that the miraculous is always within our reach if we strive together before God faithfully.
