

FAIR-FIELDER

Catch what was said in the sermon?

If it's something valuable, expect the price is going to be commensurate.

Even palace peeps aren't allowed to murder Egyptians.

While Moses is counting sheep to stay awake, God has been deep asleep.

Bear in mind that it's a burning bush, not a ferocious forest fire (3).

Moses thinks, 'Whatever'.

Considering this bizarre proposition which has no hope (2) of succeeding, the price is absurdly high.

The erosion of organized labor (2) in the last 40 years has brought us back to the bad old days.

Peter sees himself as something of a leader-like figure.

Jesus chastises Peter for taking his own counsel and speaking in reaction instead of devotion.

They are not going to be Jesus' lieutenants in the new regime, or princes in a palace.

It means something of greatest value is in your shopping cart (2).
